

Taking care of others – and yourself

Learn about caregiver support from your Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

If you're caring for a loved one, it's important to take care of yourself too. Your Employee Assistance Program (EAP) can help. We have specialists who can help you manage your situation and find resources. You can get support for going back to work after taking leave. You can also get connected with services like counseling, child care and senior housing. Ask your EAP team for help – because caregivers need care, too.
